Holocaust Memorial Center to host speaker about Uyghurs

The Holocaust Memorial Center in Farmington Hills will host an online program, "Genocide Today: The Uyghurs in China," by Ellen J. Kennedy, Ph.D.

The program starts at 7 p.m. Thursday. Kennedy is executive director of World Without Genocide; she will speak about the Turkic Muslim ethnic group in western China known as the Uyghurs. "Human rights violations against the Uyghurs have been at the forefront of U.S. policy discussion," the announcement said.
